Institutionalization refers to the process of placing individuals with mental or physical disabilities, or those who are otherwise unable to care for themselves, into long-term care facilities [1]. These facilities are often large, isolated, and provide little opportunity for residents to interact with the outside world [1]. Institutionalization was a common practice in the 20th century, but it has since been replaced by community-based care models that aim to provide more personalized care and support [1].

I hope this helps. Is there anything else I can help you with?
